

Faces of Reconstruction n

Jeremy L Powers

Slaves in South Carolina

The First Colored Senator and Representatives

RECONSTRUCTION OF THE SOUTH.

A comic picture of Reconstruction
in the South

A train loading station in the South

Freedman standing on crank railroad

President Andrew Johnson

· Vice-President Andrew Johnson became President after the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

Pres. Johnson's Reconstruction Plan:

I. The majority of voters in each Southern state must pledge their loyalty to the U.S....

II. ...and each state must ratify (approve) the Thirteenth Amendment.

• The Thirteenth Amendment, which banned slavery, was ratified on Dec.6, 1865

President Andrew Johnsons Reconstruction Plan

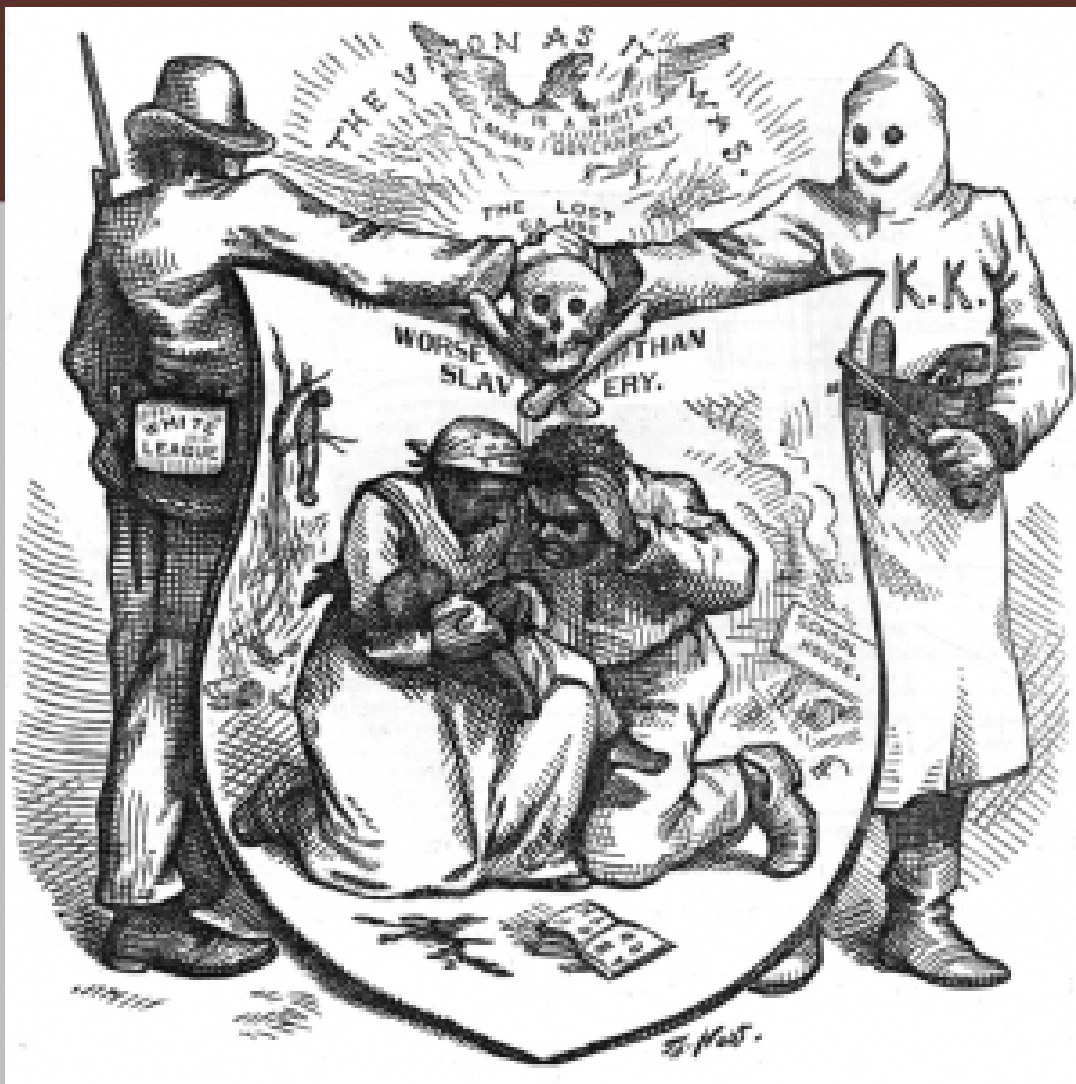

"THIS IS A WHITE MAN'S GOVERNMENT."

"We report the Reconstruction Act (as such) of Congress as an act of unprincipled, unscrupulous, and cold-blooded oppression."

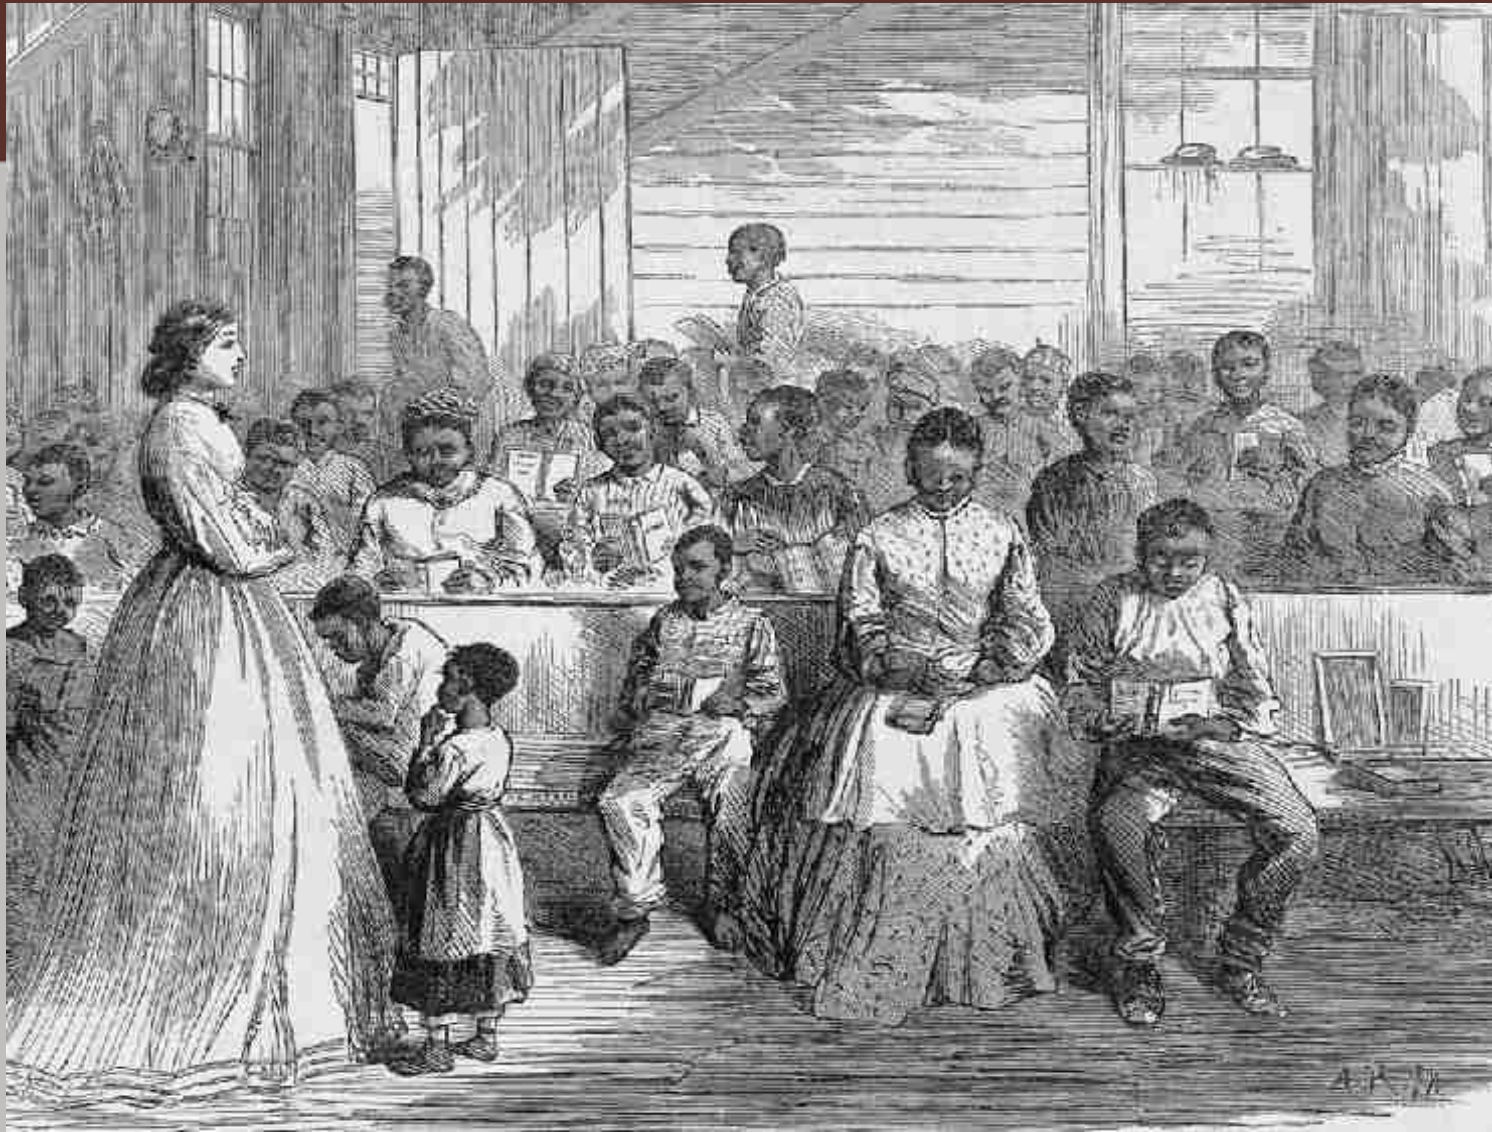

A comic picture detailing stages of Reconstruction

A poster from Reconstruction

A school house of Freedmen

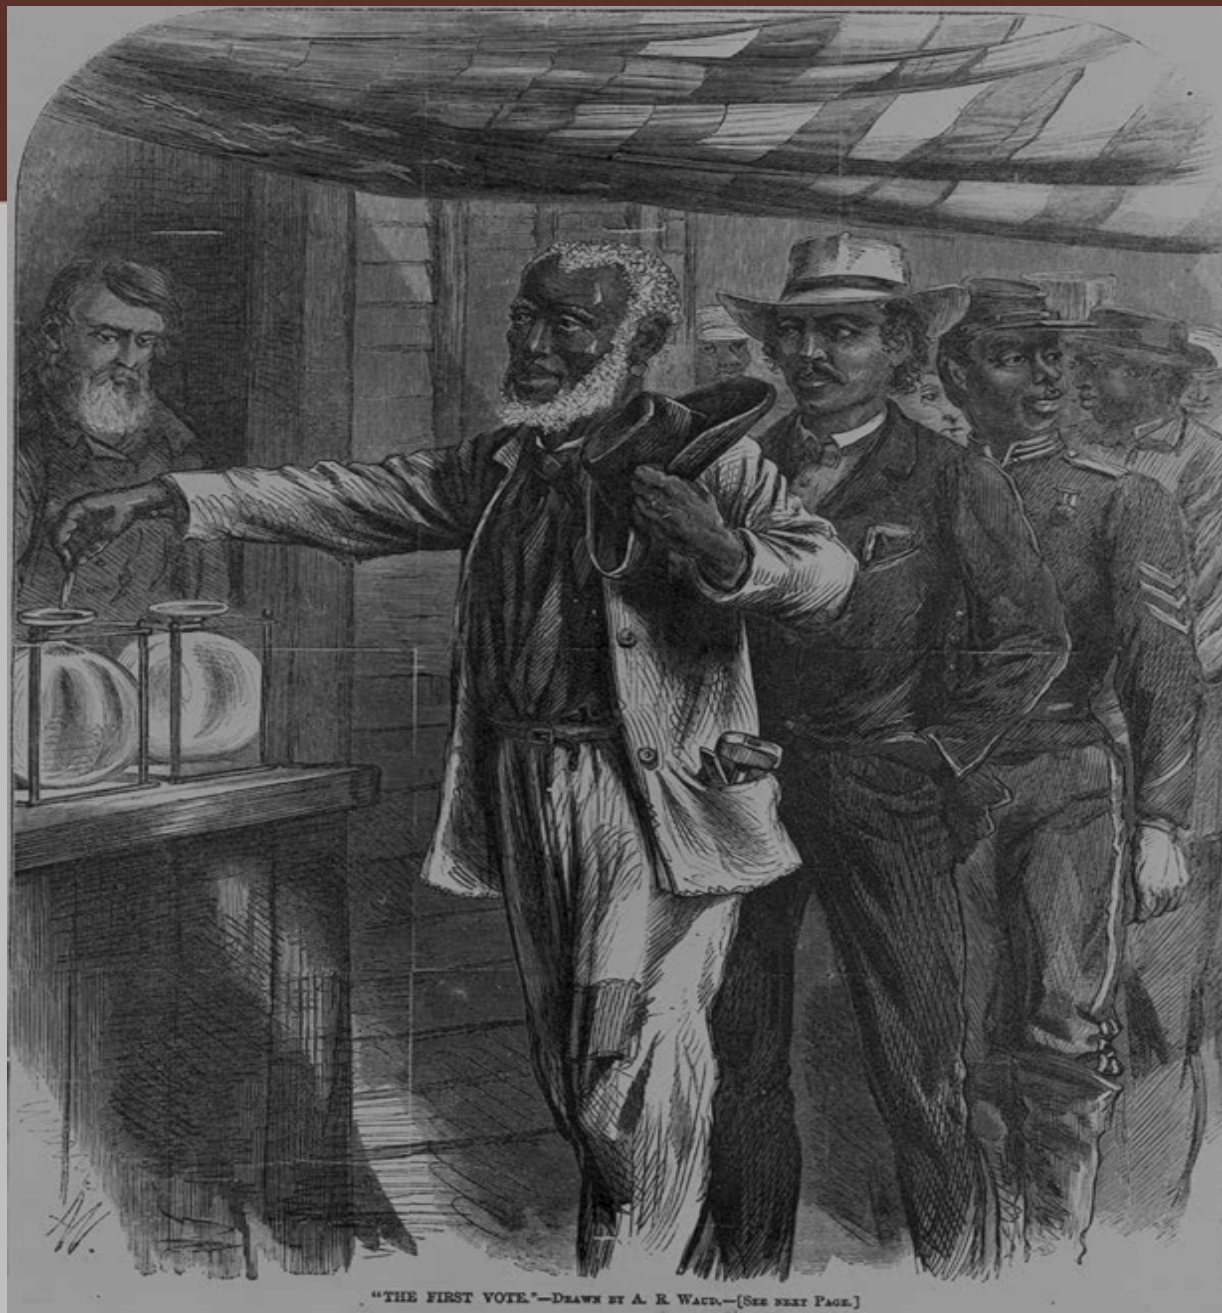

Freedmen gathering the dead

An destroyed area in the south
after the war

"THE FIRST VOTE."—DRAWN BY A. R. WARD.—[SEE NEXT PAGE.]

Newly freedmen as business men

Newly freedmen in need of food, clothing, and shelter

Rebuilding the economy in the south

A badly damaged Charleston,
South Carolina

Ku Klux Klan, a serious problem in the South during Reconstruction

Share Croppers and farm

THE BLACK CODES
Library of Congress.

a meeting revolving around
Black Codes

Another very badly damaged area
in the South

a comical picture of a carpetbagger

